SUBJECT: Medical services provided by Community Health NursesSUMMARY

Community Health Nurses focus on women's health, immunizations, and sexually transmitted diseases and are funded in part by the State Rural Health Division. More specialized care is also available in Pahrump, but is offered by private practitioners and other clinics not associated with the state rural health division. For example, Pahrump has a pediatrician who runs a clinic, a veteran's clinic, and several private dermatologists, dentists, and chiropractors.

Ms. Himrick has heard about the new hospital that may be built in Pahrump, but is unsure if and when it will be completed. There is a long history of trying to get the project off the ground.
